

Fine Wine and Finance Seminar

You are invited to join us for some Wine Tasting and a Financial Educational Seminar where we will cover today's most important financial concepts.

We will discuss:

- How to determine the amount of money you need to save to be financially independent
- Your top "need-to-know" issues regarding insurance protection
- Strategies for reducing income taxes in today's high-tax environment
- An overview of available longer-term savings plans and how to determine which one is most effective for you and your family
- The top strategies for college-education savings

Find out why attendees to our educational sessions consistently report that they gained incredibly valuable knowledge and are better equipped for making financial decisions in today's fast-paced world.

We look forward to seeing you there, and feel free to share this information.
